Publication of Bank Statement With Unexpectedly Favorable Changes Stimulates Bull Fever.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.-Today's market was in a speculative turmoil almost from start to finish. Enormous buying by some of the strongest interests testified to inside knowledge of important deals in the railroad world, but none of the facts became public. Isolated ru-mors and conjectures were sufficiently numerous to enable the Street by combining them to conceive a theory that involved a deal effecting such changes in the status of many securities as would impart to them a value far above prevailing quotations.

The industrial list was completely overshadowed by the activity and buoy-ancy in the railroad list. Prices started higher and then sold off on heavy profittaking, but the process of absorption was apparently unchecked, with the result that in the last half hour the market advanced irresistibly to the highest of the day. New York Central at its of the day. New York Central at its maximum showed a gain of ten points from yesterday. Northwest rose 7 per cent but lost half the gain. The new feature of the speculation was found in Pennsylvania, which advanced over 3 per cent. The publication of the bank statement with its unexpectedly favor- Seaboard n. 2d pfd., 51 52 able changes from a week ago stimulated the buil fever afresh.

COTTON MARKET QUIET

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Cotton market was that the complete the market as far as they dared with narrow fluctuations and a comparatively much smaller volume of business than for any day this week. The trading element were apparently undecided as towhat would be the next move by the large market interests or the leading outside bear operator, and were more inclined to await further with the fear of the bull managers in the mind. At the close May was % lower and July down %.

Oats lost 1/40/4. Pork showed 2½c. decline at the end, lard and ribs from 5 to flove, for there is no likelihood that much profit can accrue to him from the undertaking.

Deacon Persimmons—I notice in the exchange, has begun the compilation of a little volume which he thinks will meet the wishes of his fellow-brokers. It is in all respects a labor of love, for there is no likelihood that much profit can accrue to him from the undertaking.

New York Central were specially strong. The expectations of a good New York bank statement assisted the advance. Stocks closed steady.

Foreign securities were uncertain, Japanése hesitated in buying, and selling became semewhat heavy and closed firm.

Rates for money were firm, owing to the large indebtedness to the Bank of England, though the supplies were increased by the disbursement of $22,000,000 in dividends, which, with other dividends, was calculated to ease the situation.

Higations either way to any extent.

Prices opened about 2 to 3 points lower and after recovering this, gradually slumped to a level of about 7 points from last night's closing quotations for the general list, and 4 points for March and closed quiet on about that basis.
